Dear Sir.

I wish to report sighting of an object which appeared to be unquestionably a rocket.

Its position. 110 miles NNW from Roma. Time about 6.15 P.M. on Sept 1959. Orange colour streak sighted in the western sky about ten degrees above horizon. Relative movement slow mainly vertical but slightly to East.

Object disappeared into bank of hazy cloud, following later (same object I presume) travelling almost horizontally at an elevation of about 45° eventually disappearing into the light of the moon. On the second sighting the object appeared as a trail of white smoke or vapour (similar to a jet trail) with a point of white light at the front — like burning magnesium.

I believe the orange colour seen originally was probably due to the fact that the object was sufficiently far to the west to be illuminated by the sun — the sun had set here prior to sighting.

Lloyd N. Waldron,
"Waldrona,"

I have three other witnesses to this sighting and am not in the habit of seeing 'flying saucers'.

Have no idea to whom such a report should be sent. but no doubt you can direct it to the right channels. — if you regard it as being of any significance.

Probably I am troubling you two, and my son. but I can't help being curious.

I would say that it definitely was not a jet. and, from its direction of travel, it did not appear to have originated at Woodland.

Yours faithfully
Lloyd N. Waldron
